

Use the Inclusive Practices Tools

The wellbeing@school Inclusive Practices Tools were developed by NZCER to support schools to build inclusive practices for all learners.

The Inclusive Practices Tools:

- focus on practices, systems, and structures rather than conditions or disabilities
- describe inclusive education practices
- give examples drawn from research on common barriers experienced by students with additional learning needs or disabilities
- use language that is inclusive of all students
- highlight the importance of inclusion for all students, and student diversity as a resource for learning.
