Develop safe classroom protocols

Review classroom systems to ensure there is a consistent message that no bullying or harassment will be allowed.

Let all students know that they are protected in the classroom.

Support students by:

- knowing your school's anti-bullying policy and communicating this to all students
- responding quickly to any homophobic, biphobic, or transphobic comments and harassment
- developing confidential classroom systems that allow students to give feedback, share information, or seek help when needed
- recording gender- and sexuality-based harassment in the school's harassment log
- working with all learners to develop and construct classroom expectations and ways of working that respect everyone.
