A graphic organizer for bats. It features a central rectangular box with a black border containing the word "BATS" in bold and the question "What are they?". On either side of the text in this box are two black silhouettes of bats in flight. Surrounding this central box are four larger, light gray rounded rectangular boxes, each with a question: "What do they look like?" (top left), "Where do they live?" (top right), "What do they eat?" (bottom left), and "What do they do?" (bottom right).
