

Inclusive Education

From

Guide: Behaviour and learning

Strategy: Foster relationships and partnerships

Suggestion: Connect with daily interactions

Date

10 August 2024

Link

inclusive.tki.org.nz/guides/behaviour-and-learning/connect-with-daily-interactions

Foster positive relationships

We found that positive student-teacher relationships were one of the most important factors for young people's engagement in school. Students were much more likely to be engaged in learning activities when they felt their teacher listened to them, helped them, respected them, and was fair to them.

Source:

[Growing Up in New Zealand - School engagement
https://www.growingup.co.nz/news/school-engagement-latest-research-shows-student-teacher-relationships-academic-self-belief-and-inclusivity-are-keys-to-success](https://www.growingup.co.nz/news/school-engagement-latest-research-shows-student-teacher-relationships-academic-self-belief-and-inclusivity-are-keys-to-success)

This information was downloaded/printed from the Ministry of Education's website "Inclusive Education". Except where otherwise noted it is Crown Copyright 2018.

Information on the Inclusive Education website is regularly updated so we recommend you check the website version of this information to ensure it remains current.
