

Give ākongā more processing time

Ākongā with FASD need more time to process what they see and hear, as well as time to think and understand new information.

Accommodations do not have to be complicated — give more listen time, create space for more think time, write it down to help with processing, and give your child permission upfront to take the time they need.

Source:

“Ten second child in a one second world” Eileen Devine
<https://www.eileendevine.com/single-post/the-10-second-child-in-a-one-second-world-slower-processing-pace-and-4-ways-to-support-it>

This information was downloaded/printed from the Ministry of Education's website "Inclusive Education". Except where otherwise noted it is Crown Copyright 2018.

Information on the Inclusive Education website is regularly updated so we recommend you check the website version of this information to ensure it remains current.
