Learn about diversity together

Create opportunities to discuss and build shared understandings about diversity and valuing all learners.

- ✓ Be open to learning from and with parents, whānau and your local community and make decisions together.
- ✓ Engage in genuine dialogue with whānau and make decisions together.
- ✓ Create multiple opportunities for your community to ask questions about inclusion and what it would mean for their own child.
- ✓ Invite your community to see activities that explicitly model inclusion at your school, or at another school.
- ✓ Offer presentations or workshops to parents and whānau about the value of including all learners.
- ✓ Create opportunities for students and their whānau to share what valuing diversity means to them.
- ✓ Be ready to articulate your vision for inclusion in language that your community can relate to.

Build culture with deliberate acts of leadership

Learn about treaty partnerships and diversity together by connecting with whānau, iwi and community.

In this video, a principal talks about deliberate acts of leadership to develop a bicultural school.

Connect with culturally sustaining frameworks

Learn from whānau using culturally sustaining frameworks. Understand how to meet hauora or wellbeing and learning needs.

For example use dimensions from the Māori health model, Te Whare Tapa Whā

Taha Whānau – family, people and relationships

- whānau, friends, iwi and hapū
- cultural, religious, social and recreational connections
- professionals working with the family

Taha Wairua – spiritual well being or life force

- spiritually strengthening aspects for example faith, being in nature, creative activities and meditation
- special interests
- hopes and priorities for ākonga and whānau

Taha Tinana – physical wellbeing

- physical activity and recreation preferences
- sensory challenges
- medications and allergies

Taha Hinengaro – mental and emotional wellbeing

- strengths and talents
- dislikes, what can upset them
- signs that the student is beginning to feel upset or anxious
- strategies used to calm students

Whenua – connection to the land and environment

- important places
- Iwi and hapū maunga – mountains and awa – rivers
- interests in the environment, plants and animals
- connections to people and ancestors.

Reflection questions

Consider these questions in your context.

Do our policies, procedures and local curriculum reflect the diversity of our community?

How do we support strong partnerships with learners with additional needs, and their whānau?

Do we actively seek diverse perspectives when making decisions?

How do we support the participation of Māori whānau and Pacific families?
