

Build capability with coaching

Coaching is a collaborative process that builds teacher capability by focussing on the needs and next steps of each teacher.

Teaching is a complex craft, and teachers are simultaneously curriculum developers, content experts, pedagogues, social workers, psychologists, mentors and motivators... Coaching is likely to be effective because it is purposefully differentiated. Much like effective teaching to students, effective coaching purposefully targets each individual teacher's needs.

Source:

The Education Hub

<https://theeducationhub.org.nz/an-introduction-to-instructional-coaching/>

This information was downloaded/printed from the Ministry of Education's website "Inclusive Education". Except where otherwise noted it is Crown Copyright 2018.

Information on the Inclusive Education website is regularly updated so we recommend you check the website version of this information to ensure it remains current.
