

Start early

Future pathways and careers education starts at Years 7 and 8.

Specific transition planning also needs to start early to allow time to prepare students and their whānau for life after school. Document skills, experiences and qualifications to show progress over time.

“Support learners/ākonga to see the connections between what they are learning and the world of work.”

Source: The Statement of National Education and Learning Priorities \(NELP\) and the Tertiary Education Strategy \(TES\) – Ministry of Education

This information was downloaded/printed from the Ministry of Education's website "Inclusive Education". Except where otherwise noted it is Crown Copyright 2018.

Information on the Inclusive Education website is regularly updated so we recommend you check the website version of this information to ensure it remains current.
