Know the difference between sex, gender and sexuality

Note, these concepts differ across cultures and languages. Indigenous terms may involve a more holistic understanding of these aspects of identity.

There are important differences between sex, gender, and sexuality.

Sex:

- refers to particular characteristics of bodies, including reproductive organs, genitalia, hormones, and chromosomes
- is often seen as a binary: male or female
- there is however considerable physical variation within these physical characteristics, and
- the term intersex describes those who do not fit this traditional binary.

Gender:

- gender identity refers to how you identify your gender internally, regardless of the sex of your body
- gender expression refers to how you express your gender – masculine, feminine, both, neither, or in between.

Sexuality:

- refers to who you are attracted to.
- you may be attracted to people of the the same and/or differing sex or gender
- you also may not be sexually attracted to anyone.

Know how to address students

Using a person's chosen name and pronouns can have positive impacts on their mental health.

Every student will have different wishes and needs around this.

- ✓ Privately and respectfully check with students about the name and pronoun they would like you to use around other people in your school community. This includes on the class roll or around the learning environment.
- ✓ If a student would like everyone, or only some people, to know their chosen name and pronouns, this should be communicated to those identified in a respectful way.
- ✓ To maintain a student's privacy, check with the student about the name and/or pronouns they want to be used in the records that parents or caregivers may see, as they might be different to the ones they use at school.
