

Review National Education Learning Priorities (NELP) requirements

From 1 January 2023, the new strategic planning and reporting framework was introduced, and the National Education Goals and National Administration Guidelines were removed. The then new planning and reporting framework has a clear link to the NELP and will require schools and kura to show how they've reflected the NELP in their 3-year strategic plans.

Each board, through the principal and staff, is required to, on the basis of good quality assessment information, identify students and groups of students:

- who are not achieving
- who are at risk of not achieving
- who have diverse learning needs (including gifted and talented students), and
- aspects of the curriculum which require particular attention.

This information was downloaded/printed from the Ministry of Education's website "Inclusive Education". Except where otherwise noted it is Crown Copyright 2018.

Information on the Inclusive Education website is regularly updated so we recommend you check the website version of this information to ensure it remains current.
